Registered voters who fit into the specific categories for absentee voting and who want to use that method, should contact Metzler.

Are EMFs dangerous?

Power company says no

BY TRACI BONNEY

Several residents of Turner Street have voiced concerns recently about the health and safety of their families now that Mississippi Power Company is closing a 115-kilovolt power transmission loop which services the Port Bienville Industrial Park.

Jeanne del Castillo and others who live or own property on Turner have spoken several times to the Bay St. Louis City Council about several issues dealing with the power company, including the possibility that electric and magnetic fields (EMFs) may adversely affect the street's residents.

According to literature del-

Castillo received from various sources (including Mississippi Power Company), electric fields result from voltage (electric pressure applied to a wire). Magnetic fields are caused by the motion of the electric charge.

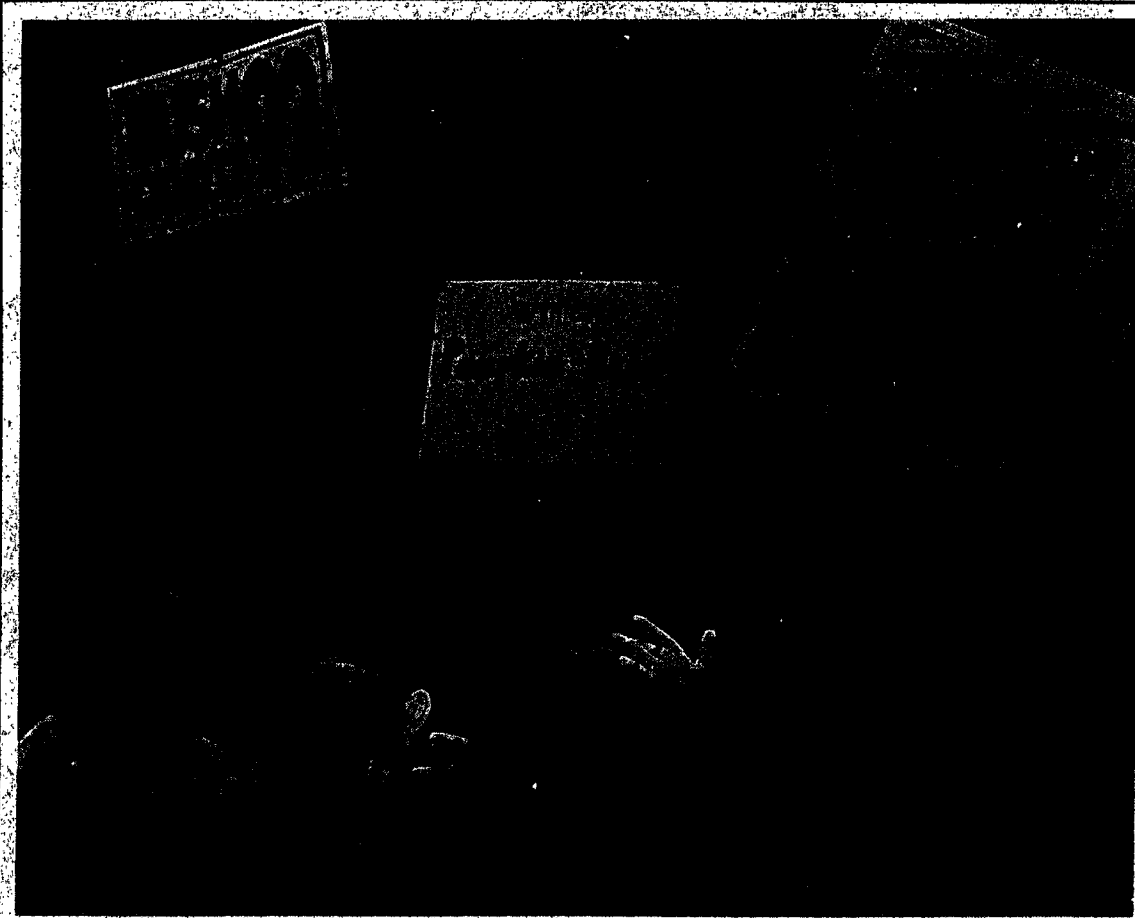

The electric field is produced whether or not an appliance is in operation, because of the electricity in the wiring. However, magnetic fields go away when the appliance is turned off.

EMFs are measured in milligauss (1/1000 of a gauss). A typical household and workplace reading is one milligauss, according to MPC and other brochures.

The Turner street residents claim that recent educational television programs have stated that exposure to the more intense EMFs produced by high voltage transmission lines may cause certain forms of leukemia in children.

Mississippi Power Company spokesman Buddy Eller acknowledges that two recent studies have pointed out the possible link, but he said, "The studies haven't been subjected to peer review, which is perhaps the most important testing of any study, or viewed in the context of the last 20 years of

2 homes totaled by kitchen fires

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

County fire marshal Richard Pate reported the total destruction of two Hancock homes by fire within three days. Both were the result of unattended cooking pots.

Pate stated both fires, Saturday's Bayside Park trailer and Monday's Jourdan River Estates wood frame home, were accidentally caused by something being left on stoves unattended.

The Saturday fire, Pate said, began about 5:45 p.m. Vivian Netto, 57, who suffers from Parkinson's disease, was in the back bedroom of the trailer when neighbor A.J. Arceneaux saw flames coming from the structure.

Netto's husband, returning to the Jefferson Davis Street residence, ran in to the home with Arceneaux. Arceneaux was able to get through and assist Mrs. Netto outside.

He added, Mrs. Netto was taken to Hancock Medical Center, where she received initial treatment for first- and third-degree burns.

She was then transferred to the University of South Alabama Medical Burn Center, where she remains.

"I spoke with her husband Monday," the fire marshal commented, "and he told me she was doing much better, improving every day."

The second fire occurred approximately 8 p.m. Monday at Janelle Street in Jourdan River Estates.

Pate reported, "The homeowner, E. M. Demoran, 49, related to us that he was cooking and he walked out of his house for a short period of time. Upon returning, the house was filled with smoke, so he dropped to his knees and crawled out of the structure."

Bayside Volunteer Fire Department responded to the Bayside Park fire with East Hancock and Clermont Harbor departments assisting. In Jourdan River Estates, East Hancock responded with Bayside assisting.

Pate reminds the public that most home fires begin in the kitchen and are cooking related.

School board ok's bond sale

BY TRACI BONNEY

After having called two special meetings to lock in the sale of general obligation bonds for the school district, then cancelling them because the sale could not be completed, the Bay St. Louis-Waveland school board gave authorization for the bond sale agreement to be signed when it is ready.

The board voted Monday to authorize chairman Linda Penrose and secretary James Wilcox to sign a bond sale agreement if and when the bond market is right. The firm of Hattier, Sanford and Renoir, which the board hired to handle the refinancing of the district's bonds, is under obligation to the board to sell the bonds if the firm can guarantee a savings of at least $100,000.

School board attorney Gerald Gex explained, "They have tried for the $125,000 savings the board originally set as its goal, but the market has been such that they haven't been able to realize that savings."

Therefore, he said, the board lowered its goal to a savings of $100,000 or more.

The trustees had hired the New Orleans-based firm and retained Lucien Bourgeois as bond counsel in September.

Taxi service waits on BSL applications

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

So you wish to begin a taxi, shuttle or limousine service.

First, according to county tax assessor Eddie Murtagh, you must purchase a $35 privilege license from the county and pay for a license plate, calculated by the state on model and year of vehicle.

You need not show proof of insurance, or meter fee scale, etc. That comes when you apply for a city license.

Both Waveland and Bay St. Louis have reported no one has been issued a city permit at this time.

Waveland's tax office reported no one has appeared before the mayor and board of aldermen, which is the first step in the city's licensing process, said a tax office spokesman.

Bay St. Louis, on the other hand, adopted a revised ordinance July 7. This ordinance requires the completion of an application. Application forms are presently being printed and are expected to be available shortly.

Meanwhile, Bay St. Louis Police Chief Frank McNeil reports any taxi, shuttle bus or limousine wishing to pick up paying passengers in Bay St. Louis must first have a city operator's license.

He added, "At this time, we do not know of any (taxis) that should be operating in the city of Bay St. Louis."

The BSL ordinance states, "No person shall drive a taxi

Reflections

On Life

By Father Jerome
LeDoux, SVD

Real love is rare

"Pete often told me, 'My every breath is taken to make you happy.' And he proved it."

"I'm really going to miss him," my long-time friend, Bernice kept repeating. "I'm going to miss him. No day passed when Pete did not kiss me before falling asleep or the first thing when we woke up in the morning."

Bernice had been through a terrible first marriage badly tainted by selfishness, neglect, infidelity and moments of mental abuse. A lonely divorcee early on in life, she longed for the day when she might have true love in her life.

That was not to happen until she had lived out all the years of her young adulthood. Providentially, almost as if waiting for the precise moment of destiny, she continued in her loneliness until a widower whispered a heartfelt prayer.

"I asked God to send a good woman into my life," the widower Pierre Jovis would later tell Bernice, "and God sent you to me."

For her part, all she wanted was a decent man who would respect her, be devoted to her and share the good things of life with her. She was the perfect object of the widower's prayer as he sought to fill the void of his own loneliness.

"After all my years of unhappiness and loneliness, I didn't think it was asking God too much to look for a few years of love, peace and happiness. And that's what Pete brought me: 18 years of love and happiness."

A number of Bernice's friends remarked from time to time: "It's the way Pete just stares at you and studies you. It's nothing else but the look of love."

"That's all it was," Bernice continued, all wrapped up in her reflections. "I did not have to ask Pete to do anything. I just lined up the shoes, and he polished them. He would do the dishes, the pots and the pans every single day. He swept the floor and always put out the garbage."

"Pete would run errands or to the store ten times a day, and would kiss me before going and as soon as he returned."

Envious girlfriends would sometimes ask Bernice, incredulously but half hoping: "Does Pete have a brother or a cousin who might be interested in me?"

"As quiet as Pete was, he was a superb dancer and loved the social life. He would say, 'Let's,' and I would say, 'Go.' This past year we attended ten Mardi Gras balls. One year we went to 17 balls, and even became quick-change artists, switching our clothes to fit the various balls."

Bowing to Pete's even-keeled temper, Bernice observed: "Of course, I was the more fiery of the two. When I would say something out of the box, Pete would shame me into backing down by his silence and his gentleness."

Some years ago, when Bernice was bedridden with a bad back, Pete stood over her and sighed: "I would do anything to have your back right now."

Unbeknown to Pete, Bernice's youngest son was standing behind him and shrieked: "Super Pete!" And Pete all but wore out the Super Pete T-shirt which George had printed.

"You tell me 'I love you' 50 times a day in the hospital," Bernice protested to Pete, "more than ever at home."

"I can prove it at home. Here, I can only say it."

research."

Eller said the electric power industry has spent upwards of $20 million since the 1970s in research on the effects of EMFs on plants, animals and cells. "In fact, now the government is involved. The energy bill signed last Saturday by the president includes federal funding for research into this issue."

"We certainly are concerned about this matter. We actively support research, and we have had established for several years an EMF task force made up of eight to 10 people from various disciplines."

"Task force members give talks to various school and civic groups; they also have an in-home kit, which includes an EMF measuring device, that they will bring to your home to check the field readings."

"We understand the concerns of the Turner Street residents, but we have found that you get more exposure to EMFs from the appliances and wiring in your home than from a high-voltage wire."

"The wire is 100 feet or so in the air. By the time the EMF reaches you, it has lost much of its strength."

"So while we understand their fears and we are concerned about the matter, we also know that most of the research to date indicates negligible, if any, long-term ill effects from EMFs."

Eller added that the Bay St. Louis City Council has requested a meeting with power company officials to discuss health and other concerns, but that scheduling conflicts have prevented the meeting from occurring.

However, he said, "We'll be happy to meet with the councilmen and any residents who want to attend as soon as we can get something worked out."

assembly set for lunchtime to discuss the school's participation in a nationwide mock election. Around 10 a.m. — third period — the student body and staff were asked to evacuate the building because of a chlorine leak.

Science teacher Sudarshan Sabharwal, Ph.D. — known around campus as "Doc" — was removing the regulator from an old chlorine gas tank that had once been part of the school's water treatment system before they switched to the safer chlorine tablets. The tank was to be taken off the school property, but the school wanted to keep the regulator, which was expensive.

While Sabharwal was working on the tank, a seal broke, causing a minor explosion and giving him a faceful of chlorine gas.

The school was immediately evacuated, and the Pass Christian fire department was called to the scene. Mobile Medic also was summoned to tend to Sabharwal.

Fire department officials capped the tank, checked the school building and ventilated it, then allowed everyone to return around 11:30.

Sabharwal, a student and the school janitor were taken to Memorial Hospital at Gulfport, where they were checked and released. All three returned to the school around 2:30 p.m.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

High school football is fast coming to and end with only two regular season games left for each team. On Friday of this week, the Tigers of Bay High will play host to Poplarville for their last conference game of the season.

The game against Poplarville is very important to the Tigers, if they expect to make it to the playoffs.

Bay High has been in high gear this year under the guidance of head coach Rocky Gaudin, whose two previous years of rebuilding a football program is paying dividends.

The Tigers more than doubled the points an opponent could muster against Perry Central last Friday and came out on top by a 23-18 score in Bulldog stadium at New Augusta.

Several bus loads of Tiger fans were on hand to support Bay High, giving them that away-from-home boost they needed and deserve.

Bay High has had several lean years, but this season they can be very proud of the Tigers performances.

With Bay High at 7-1 for the season, one would have to go back many years to see a comparable record.

The "Tiger roar" should be heard all over Bay St. Louis Friday night, and I am sure J.D. McCullough stadium should be packed with Bay High fans.

One has to go back some years to see an Irvin Favre coached Hancock High with a 3-6 record, as the Hawks have been taking their lumps this season.

This Friday Hancock will be traveling to East Central at Hurley, Miss.

This is one of those long trips, as it is in the neighborhood of 75 miles, as I was there when the Rocks played East Central earlier in the season.

I am sure head coach Irvin Favre will have the Hawks ready to fly high Friday night.

It's going to be the longest journey of the season for a local team on Friday, as the Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws play Gulf Breeze, Fla.

The athletic director for the Gulf Breeze Dolphins is Sylvan J. Ladner, formerly of Bay St. Louis.

This game is probably some three hours away and would be a good one for the Rocks to win.

Stanislaus' fortunes haven't been too good this season, and I am sure head coach Ken Lyons will have the team up for this game.

Gulf Breeze had a good team last season and defeated the Rocks here, and this would be a good time for Stanislaus to record their first victory of the season.

The Rock-A-Chaws will find out how good they are on Friday night.

I hope to see you at the games this week. Remember, your local team needs your support.

Best of luck to the Tigers, Hawks and Rock-A-Chaws.

The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce's October Morning Edition will be held tomorrow (Friday) at the Waveland Resort Inn.

The sponsor for this month is the Peoples Bank with guest speaker, the new Bay-Waveland School Superintendent Paul Tisdale.

This will be an opportunity for folks to come out and meet Mr. Tisdale and hear about his plans for our school system.

Tisdale, comes to the Bay-Waveland district from Biloxi and took over as superintendent after the retirement of Robert Magee.

I am hoping there will be a large crowd to hear the new superintendent make his presentation.

Those planning on attending are asked to RSVP at the chamber office, by calling 467-9048.

Saturday is Halloween and this will mean a lot of youngsters will be about town trick-or-treating.

Hancock Medical Center American Legion Auxiliary Unit No. 139 will have Halloween Treats from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. at the hospital's cafeteria.

There will be free goodies and snacks for the youngsters.

There are haunted houses around and also many residents will be giving out candies and goodies to the youngsters trick-or-treating.

Motorists are asked to please drive with extreme care on Saturday night, as many of the young are more interested in what they will be getting for Halloween than about traffic.

Parents are urged to accompany their children while they go about the area trick-or-treating.

Several Bay St. Louis streets will be closed for traffic. This is to help make it safer for our youth.

I hope everyone will have a very happy and safe Halloween.

P.S. Lookout for the ghosts and goblins.

There's really not anything difficult about it.
Don't think it won't matter if you don't do it.
All it takes is a few minutes out of your day.
It will affect the direction of our country.
It will affect the direction of our state.
People have died for the right to do this.
Each and every one counts in the end.

Go to the polls next week.
Check the boxes.
Pull the levers.
Do your duty.
Vote.

EYES ON MISSISSIPPI

By Bill Minor

Old legislators never fade away... they find another government job

Paraphrasing Gen. Douglas MacArthur's poignant farewell remark that "old soldiers never die, they just fade away," there's a new saying making the rounds of the State Capitol these days.

It goes like this: "Old legislators never fade away, they just find another job in state government, or as hired hands to lobby their old colleagues in the Legislature."

The latest bit of intelligence in this unfolding saga is that outgoing Sen. Ollie Mohamed of Belzoni and Rep. Will Green of Poinceter of Inverness, both of whom were defeated for reelection in August, have hired on with Gov. Kirk Fordice to serve as his legislative liaison at the 1993 session.

Fordice's staff was vague last week about what arrangements have been made with Mohamed and Poinceter. However, it was apparent that the governor is seeking to use a loophole to circumvent Section 109 of the constitution that bars lawmakers from taking a state-paid job within one year after he goes out of the Legislature.

Instead of putting the two ex-lawmakers on the state payroll, Fordice is going to pay them with private funds, a device which will bypass a confrontation with the state Ethics Commission.

Just what private funds will be used by Fordice was not clear last week. Mohamed said, "I don't know where it is coming from, but it's not the state."

Fordice has evidently taken a leaf from the book of Lt. Gov. Eddie Briggs, who pulled the same maneuver to hire former Sen. Bill Renick of Ashland, last January as his personal aide in the Senate. Since he couldn't put Renick on the state payroll for a year, Briggs came up with the "private funds" gimmick to bring him on board.

So far, the Ethics Commission has kept hands-off the Renick deal, saying that since he is not on the state payroll, he's outside their purview. Meantime, Renick, although he carries no official job title on the Senate staff, holds considerable political clout around the Senate.

Fordice had managed to skim by a Section 109 conflict-of-interest violation in his appointment of Rep. Ed Buelow of Vicksburg as chairman of the State Tax Commission in May on a favorable ruling from the Ethics Commission. The ethics body held that the Tax Commission chairmanship was a "public office" for a specific term and did not involve a contract which constitutes a Section 109 violation.

But the Ethics Commission has recently vetoed State Auditor Steve Patterson hiring former Rep. Harry Bryan of Batesville as a member of the Department of Audit staff beginning this fall.

Bryan, veteran of 16 years in the Mississippi House, had been defeated for re-election in 1991, and his legislative term expired last January.

Patterson took the position that since Bryan had not voted on the 1992-93 appropriation to fund the auditor's office which became effective this past July 1, he became eligible for employment after that date and he asked the Ethics Commission to so rule.

However, the ethics body, reportedly by a one-vote margin, held that Bryan, a former local radio announcer, would not be eligible to take a state job until after January 1, 1993.

Even though he was turned down in hiring Bryan this year, Patterson confirmed to this column that he plans to put the ex-legislator on his payroll, starting in January.

Another legislative veteran, Rep. Wes McIngvale, of Batesville, who was rejected by the voters in the August primaries, is coming back to the state Capitol scene in a peripheral legislative advocacy job.

McIngvale, one of former House Speaker Buddie Newman's lieutenants who served 17 years in the House, is joining another ex-House member, Jerry Wilkerson, who now represents and lobbies for the Mississippi Petroleum Marketers Association.

McIngvale said he "didn't plan to do any lobbying," and would mainly provide informational services for the Petroleum Marketers. But if any legislators needed information about industry regulations he would "gladly furnish it."

Significantly, for several years before Wilkerson was defeated for his Kemper County seat in 1991, he doubled-dipped as representative of the Petroleum Marketers at the same time he was a member of the House. His defeat came only after his apparent conflict was pointed out several times in this column.

Dear Editor,

After the excitement of their grand opening had died down, I visited the Casino Magic.

Before doing this, I made sure I had paid all my monthly bills, made groceries, and took care of an obligation; then I had a few dollars for my own use.

While my daughter parked the car, I stood in the entrance. The employees who saw me, asked if I needed a chair, and was there anything they could do for me.

The courtesy and concern of these men and women for an old lady went far and beyond what I had expected from a visit to Casino Magic.

When I can get one of my children to take me I shall go back again. Why go to Las Vegas or Atlantic City, when we have everything they have right

Fais-Do-Do

Diamondhead residents 'pass a good time'

The Diamondhead Country Club held its first Cajun 'Fais-Do-Do' Saturday, Oct. 17. Those attending really "passed a good time" dancing to the music provided by the band "File Gumbo" and dining on the Cajun food, prepared by food and beverage manager Gary Barnett and chef Eugene Dedeaux. The waitresses were dressed in traditional Acadian costumes.

The club had the atmosphere of Cajun land on the banks of the Louisiana bayous with all the decorations. A 7 ft. replica of a Cajun house complete with a tin roof, shutters and curtained windows and door was built by Joe MacDonald.

A "swamp" scene with alligators made by Nina Cotton, pelicans, ducks and palmettos, was displayed nearby.

The decorating committee of Laura Almerico, Rusty Cobb, Nina Cotton, Sue Jerome, Chris Sauter and Shirley Von Planta, dressed in typical Acadian attire, greeted guests as they arrived for the festive evening.

Cleaning up

Martin Luther King Park targeted for community clean up Saturday

Martin Luther King Park on Washington Street in Bay St. Louis is much cleaner today, thanks to the efforts of local citizens.

A group from St. Rose de Lima Catholic Church, citizens in the neighborhood, Operation Wakeup, and members of the Hancock Chamber of Commerce Beautification Committee met last Saturday to roll up their sleeves and improve the area.

The cleanup of the park and the corner and surrounding areas went smoothly, according to spokesman Felecia Craft. "We were surprised to find so much broken glass," said Craft, referring to numerous beer bottles found discarded.

"We ask adults or teens who have bottled beverages in the park to please dispose of them properly to avoid a hazardous situation for the children who play in this playground," said Craft.

Another cleanup is set Saturday, October 31 at 10 a.m.

Craft also distributed red ribbons to cleanup participants in recognition of Red Ribbon Week for drug awareness.

Participating in Saturday's event were Joanne and Bruce Northridge, Melinda Singleton, Valerie Singleton, the Rev. Jeffrey Reed, Felecia Speights, Brother Joseph Uran SVD, Brother Henry Miller SVD, Theresa Collins, Roger Merrifield, Robbie Merrifield, Mrs. Ruth Davis, William Stretching, Louis Dunklin, Sister Delores, Joan Thomas, Sam Nichols; Sister Dulcey, Carol Vegas, Toni Smith, Golden Fairconnetue, Michelle Dailey, Ruth Carlson, Michael Lewis, Chaquile Lewis, Mary Clarke, Sister Engratia and Felecia Craft.

Bags for participants will be provided Saturday, but it is important for participants to bring their own gloves.

Plauche' named to standards committee

Prima Plauche', director of the Hancock County Library System is one of eight professional librarians named to serve on the Mississippi Public Library Standards Committee, according to Jane Smith, acting director of the Mississippi Library Commission.

The committee was mandated by the Mississippi Statewide Library Development System Act and charged with recommending to the Mississippi Library Commission's Board of Commissioners standards under which receipt of state funds could be tied.

"This is an important issue to the public library community," said Smith, "and we are delighted to have someone with Mrs. Plauche's experience and insight serve on the committee."

The group will hold meetings and hearings to seek input from the library community and will study standards used by other states. The committee will then make a final written recommendation to the Mississippi Library Commission Board of Commissioners by Feb. 1, 1993.

Plauche' holds a master of library science degree from the University of Southern Mississippi and has been director of the Hancock County Library System since 1975.

JERRY L. LADNER

The Man For The People
Senate District 46
Independent

I choose to run as an Independent candidate because I do not want to have to answer to any group, only to you . . . the people!

There is something wrong with our county when poor people cannot afford to heat or cool their homes because of fuel and electric power costs and executives with oil and power companies are making hundreds of thousands of dollars per year. The rich are getting richer, the poor are getting poorer!

We have lost control of our justice system. The attorney-made laws deprive us of our justice. We need to take power from the judges and attorneys and use the Jury System.

Today, only the wealthy receive healthcare and justice. I think every human being is entitled to equal justice and equal healthcare, regardless of their financial status. Our tax dollars build the hospitals and courthouses.

We are taxed to death! In the month of June 1992, a one percent sales tax increase, $10-$15 car tag increase, tuition was raised on our lack of funds, but when the one percent sales tax increase came, the deans of our colleges got a $6,000 raise (from $86,000 to $92,000), yet the tuition remained higher!

Do you realize how much of your tax dollars are used for elected officials' salaries and legal fees? The poor person pays more and more taxes and gets less and less.

By using the biggest portion of the gambling taxes for education and law enforcement, we can lower or eliminate most of our taxes: (i.e., car tags and property taxes). Las Vegas has zero 0-property taxes. We can have this, too, if it is not used for salary increases and legal fees.

I will represent you, the people! Every profession has lobbyists in Jackson except the people. Let Jerry Ladner be the people's lobbyist!

Constitutional amendments on Nov. 3 ballot explained

Special to the Echo
Presidential politics may be on many Mississippi voters' minds right now, but we've got serious business of our own on the ballot Nov. 3—174 seats in the Mississippi Legislature, as well as for Congress, Supreme Court, election commissions and school boards.

There are also special elections, as well as eight constitutional amendments on the ballot. The following amendments, in the order in which they will appear on the ballot, are described in layman's terms:

NO. 1—THE LOTTERY
Senate Concurrent Resolution 512—The Lottery Amendment.

Undoubtedly, this is the most widely-known and controversial amendment on the ballot. Many people think this amendment sets up a lottery for Mississippi. It does not. All it does is delete Section 98 of the Constitution, thus removing the prohibition against lotteries, sales of lottery tickets, and lottery advertisements.

If the amendment passes, it will be up to another session of the Legislature to determine if Mississippi has a lottery, and if so, how it will operate.

NO. 2—COURT DISTRICTS
Senate Concurrent Resolution 526—Circuit, chancery court districts.

Mississippi's constitution limits the state to 20 circuit court districts and 20 chancery court districts. This amendment would give the Legislature the authority to determine the "appropriate" number of circuit and chancery court districts, as well as the number of judges in each district, to be determined by such criteria as population, the number of cases filed, etc.

Redistricting would occur after each federal census. If the Legislature fails to redistrict these courts by Dec. 31 of the fifth year after each census, the Supreme Court will do so. The amendment also notes that these court districts will not change until they are redistricted by the provisions of the amendment.

NO. 3—SUBSTITUTE GOVERNOR'S SALARY
Senate Concurrent Resolution 527—Governing officer's salary limited.

Under current law, when the governor is out of the state or unable to perform the duties of paid only what the governor would be due for that period of time (plus the customary extras of the lieutenant governor's office.)

NO. 4—CHARITABLE BEQUESTS
House Concurrent Resolution 86—Charitable bequests. Section 270 of our 1890 Constitution states that a person cannot will any part of his estate to a charity, religious, educational or civil institution within 180 days of his death, again, potentially for two straight terms. Conceivably, this pattern could be repeated as long as the voters choose to keep that person in office.

NO. 7—FEDERAL FELONIES AND HOLDING OFFICE
House Concurrent Resolution 46—Losing your right to hold public office because of a felony conviction, other than Mississippi.

Today, a Mississippi felony conviction costs a person his right to run for public office. No such provision exists for felony convictions in federal court or the court of any other state.

This amendment to Section 44 would mean the loss of the right to run for public office if a person has a felony conviction in any state or federal court. The prohibition would affect only those persons convicted after the amendment is passed.

NO. 8—INITIATIVE
Senate Concurrent Resolution 516—Initiative for constitutional amendments.

This amendment to Section 273 provides for constitutional amendments proposed by the people, in addition to the Legislature. Amendment supporters have 12 months to gather signatures from at least 12 percent of the votes cast in the latest governor's election, with no more than one-fifth of the total coming from any single congressional district.

This is "indirect" initiative because the amendment proposal must first be considered by the Legislature. A majority of each House must adopt the amendment or it goes on the next statewide general election ballot. If an amended version is approved, that version also will go on the ballot for voters to choose between the two.

For passage by the voters, an amendment must receive a majority of the votes on it, plus at least 40 percent (a so-called "super-majority") of the total votes in the election.

DON'T FORGET TO VOTE

office, the officer performing those duties receives his regular salary plus a pro-rated portion of the governor's $75,600 annual salary.

The lieutenant governor usually is that officer. In that example the lieutenant governor would receive his regular salary of $40,800 per year (plus extras of per diem, office expenses, and travel when applicable) plus a portion of the governor's salary.

This amendment would stop that practice and limit the substitute governor's extra compensation only to what the governor would be entitled. So, instead of being paid the lieutenant governor's compensation plus the governor's, the lieutenant governor would be and puts a time limit on how long that property can be held. This amendment would repeal the entire Section 270.

NO. 5—OIL AND GAS LEASES
Senate Concurrent Resolution 552—Oil and gas leases on 16th Section land.

Oil and gas leases usually extend beyond the specified term of the lease if the wells are producing. Recently, the Mississippi Supreme Court interpreted this section (211) of the Constitution as prohibiting oil and gas leases on 16th Section land from extending beyond the lease term, even if the well is producing.

This amendment would permit 16th Section oil and gas leases to continue as long as the well is producing.

NO. 6—LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR TERMS
Senate Concurrent Resolution 525—Lieutenant governor's terms.

Currently, there is no limit on how many terms Mississippi's lieutenant governor can serve. This amendment (to Section 128) limits the lieutenant governor to two consecutive terms.

However, the term limitation is not absolute; the person who has been lieutenant governor two terms in a row can wait for another term to pass and run

Forces, their spouses and dependents

—Anyone temporarily residing outside his/her home county

On the Nov. 3 ballot will be candidates for President and Vice-President, U.S. House of Representatives, Mississippi Legislature, Supreme Court, county school boards, election commissioners, and some special elections.

What Do We Need to Get the Job Done?

EXPERIENCE - LEADERSHIP - PROVEN ABILITY

Bill Johnson has spent the first 17 Years of his professional life as a servant in city, county and state government. Bill began his career with the Bay-Waveland School District. He then moved into municipal services as Bay St. Louis entered a new form of city government. Bill quickly learned the complexities of city operations. As with Bay St. Louis, Bill served the City of Ocean Springs as Public Works Administrator.

Bill repeated his performance of stepping into a new form of government and taking charge when he assumed responsibility for Hancock County's new form of county administration. Hancock was one of the State's first counties to begin this new type of management. Bill additionally worked in a branch of state government and law enforcement.

Bill has spent the last four years in private industry as Special Projects and Safety Manager for Waste Management, Operations Manager for Gulf Coast Waste, and as an independent consultant in Ecology, Waste, and Engineering.

I hope I can encourage you to consider my candidacy for State Senate. If you are new to our area, ask around about me. I stand behind my record of 17 years in Public Service. Based on this experience, give me the chance to write the legislation we really need on Jobs, Education, Community Safety, and Voters Rights. Give yourself a chance to benefit from Effective Commonsense Government!

As your State Senator I will listen to your concerns, respect your opinions and vote your voice.

COOKING UP A STORM

By Katy McGuire
Caire

An old Irish folk tale recounts the misadventures of a stingy Irishman named Jack, whose miserly ways kept him from entering Heaven, and who later was expelled from Hell because he had played tricks on the Devil. For Jack was then condemned to walk the earth forever with a lighted lantern, seeking admittance somewhere!

Especially on All Hallow's Eve (or "the eve of the Holy Ones' Day—All Saints' Day"). Long, long ago, the Irish and the Scots carved Jack-o-Lanterns from turnips, or potatoes and set lighted candles in them on this night. When the colonists left the Old World for the New, they took along their Hallowe'en customs, but not their turnips!

In the new land, they soon found the pumpkin a good substitute with the additional benefit of several bowls of fresh pumpkin meat, depending, of course, upon the size of the pumpkin. So, after the Hallowe'en fun is over, what are you going to do with the Jack-o-Lantern? Well, of course, there's the traditional pumpkin pie or pumpkin soup, but you needn't stop there.

For, there's so much more to pumpkin than pie or soup, tasty as these may be. Ever since Colonial days, when pumpkin was a morning, noon and often nighttime staple at table, thrifty housewives have been devising ways of using this colorful member of the squash family.

In fact, pumpkin may be substituted for any other winter squash in just about any recipe: steamed or fried, creamed in casseroles and such. It's a tasty addition to the stew pot, especially pork stews; and don't forget to save the seeds for roasting or to make some pumpkin chips for snacks or for the appetizer tray. A dish I like, when fresh pumpkin is on hand, is:

PORK 'N' PUMPKIN

BAKE

2 lbs. pork steaks or chops, trimmed and cut into 3/4-inch cubes

2 Tbsp. prepared mustard
1/4 cup brown sugar
2 Tbsp. flour

2 lbs., approximately, pumpkin, peeled and cut into 1-inch cubes (4 cups)

1 cup, or a bit more, pork or ham stock, or fry off a bit of ham or bacon, and add water to make a cup of liquid

Dash (1/4) thyme, dash of pepper

Salt, optional (I use a splash of hot pepper sauce instead)

Dip the pork pieces into the mustard to coat a bit, then rub with a mixture of the brown sugar and flour. Brown the pork pieces in a bit of butter, with a little oil added, just enough to film the bottom of the skillet. Transfer to a casserole or other baking dish.

Meanwhile simmer the pumpkin cubes for 3 or 4 minutes, drain well and add to the pork pieces in the baking dish. Pour any fat from the skillet in which you cooked the pork cubes, and add the stock or seasoned water, along with the seasonings, to the skillet and bring to a boil.

Pumpkins spice fall meal recipes

Pour the liquid over the pork-and-pumpkin combination, cover the baking dish and bake in a 350-degree oven for 30 minutes, stirring once or twice as it bakes. Remove the cover after 30 minutes, stir a bit and bake, uncovered for 20 minutes longer, or until the pork is tender and the sauce quite thick. (Six servings).

For PUMPKIN CHIPS: Pare and seed pumpkin, and slice ever so thin as for potato chips. Soak in ice water for an hour, then drain and pat dry. Fry in deep hot oil until browned (or coat a cookie sheet with non-stick spray and bake). Combine pepper, salt and garlic powder and sprinkle over chips until well coated.

Casino Magic hosts ICS cookoff

On Saturday afternoon, Casino Magic hosted the International Chili Society's local "Chili Cookoff." Bill Quinn, chairman, explained the winner would go to Scottsdale, Ariz. to compete in the international finals for a $25,000 prize.

The event drew 14 participants from Texas to Florida.

The judges, whose pallets sizzled over the fiery brews, included Casino Magic representatives Len Krick, Lou Connelly and Jeanna Rustand, as well as Bay St. Louis Mayor Eddie Favre, Waveland Mayor Stella Frilot, Hancock County Chamber of Commerce Director Cindy Vernon, State Senate candidate Bill Johnson, Waveland Resort Motel owner Bill Lady and Rooster's Restaurant owner Andy Lott.

Sampling cups, which allowed the public to taste all of the entries, were available for $1. Proceeds from these sales went to the Hancock County Doll and Toy Fund.

The band Night Travellers entertained the crowd as the judges made their decisions.

HHS to combat E. Central Hornets

BY JACQUI COCHRAN
The Hancock Hawks will face the East Central Hornets in Hurley tomorrow for their second to last game of the 1992 season.

HHS head coach Irvin Favre reported, "East Central has a 4-4 overall record. They have been very impressive in their past few games."

"Just last week they beat Long Beach, 39-3."

"They play a very simple game plan, from what we have seen."

"Offensively they run misdirection and wing-T, similar to us."

"They pass 50 percent of the time and run 50 percent of the time, making it hard to key into what they are going to do." Favre said, "Defensively they run a five-man front, which they tend to move around."

"Here, just as with their offense, we are just going to have to go out and play a real good ball game by picking up on their movement."

He commented that losses of the past four ball games by the Hawks have caused the team to have an attitude problem.

"They are a little on the down side."

"I told our kids yesterday, we are going in prepared. The basic question will be their attitude."

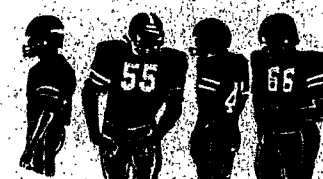

"It is not easy for anyone to get up after defeat, but I know they can do it."

"I feel our kids will find some way to play Friday night to give themselves a chance a win."

"Our team has not been as big or as fast as in previous years, but they certainly have given good effort."

If Hancock wins these next two games, Favre added, they will be able to end the season with a respectable 5-5 season. They are presently 3-5 overall and 1-3 in district competition.

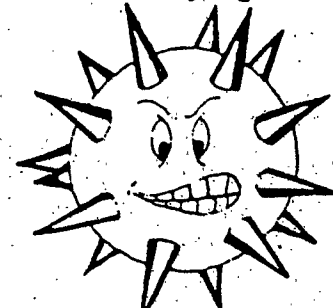

Kick off time at East Central is 7:30 p.m. and all Hawks fans are encouraged to continue in their fine showing of support.

Florida bound

Rocks seek first win of season

BY ELLIS CUEVAS
The St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws, on a rocky road in high school football this season, will be trying their luck in the state of Florida Friday night.

Gulf Breeze, Fla. will host Stanislaus in Dolphin stadium. Stanislaus played Gulf Breeze for the first time last season, losing by a 13-7 score, in an excitement-filled ball game.

The conference Gulf Breeze plays in is rated on par with Stanislaus' District VIII Class 4-A. The Dolphins are presently third in their district, after a loss last weekend.

A local connection with the Florida team is that the athletic director, Sylvan J. Ladner, is formerly of Bay St. Louis. He was football coach before becoming athletic director for the Dolphins.

Stanislaus' 1992 team is built around a few experienced players from the previous season, many only sophomores.

It is hoped that sophomore quarterback Nathan Middleton will be ready to go Friday as he saw limited action last week against Pearl River Central due to a foot injury he suffered earlier in the season.

Senior Jeffrey Bishop called most of the signals in the Blue Devil game with Middleton on the bench.

When Middleton comes in at quarterback, Bishop is a threat at split end, as he and Middleton have combined for several long gainers this season.

This also takes the pressure off sophomore back Brandon Benoit and senior Stanley Chapman, who are also good pass receivers and know what to do with the ball when they catch one. Benoit may be doubtful on Friday's roster after sustaining a pulled muscle.

In recent weeks, Stanislaus has played improved games, with the exception being against conference leader Pearl River Central.

Rock head coach Ken Lyons has kept the team's spirits high, despite the fact that there have been no victories.

Stanislaus has had many bright moments on both defense and offense in previous games, only to come up short on the score board.

In sizing up the Dolphins, who are 3-3 for the season, Lyons said, "This will be a good test. We don't have a rest this weekend, I can assure you."

Lyons commended the team's fans for their continued support.

Tigers seek playoff slot

BY RANDY PONDER
The Bay High Tigers will advance to the state playoffs if they beat the Poplarville Hornets Friday night in Joe D. McCullough Stadium.

"Look for a defensive game unless there are a lot of turnovers," Tiger coach Rocky Gaudin said. "They had some injuries

"They are a Wing-T team that utilizes a lot of different formations, but actually only runs a few plays," Gaudin explained.

"They are real patient on offense, with a good quarterback and an excellent running back. They have some good athletes."

"The key for us to win is to Central last week, the Tigers fell behind early but fought back to lead 20-6 at halftime.

"In the second half, we held onto pull the game out," Gaudin said. "Highlights of the game included outstanding play from quarterback Sam Sheppard who completed 4 of 8 passes for 152 yards and one touchdown."

Marcel Whavers caught the TD pass, an 88-yarder, just before halftime to close out the first half comeback. Xavier Lewis also pulled in a long pass, 52 yards, that almost went for a TD. Lewis was knocked out of bounds on the Bulldog 2, setting up the Tigers' first score.

Dwayne Antoine scored on a one-yard run following Lewis' catch to take the district scoring lead with 44 points on the season. Xavier has 36, followed by Larrone Lewis, 32; Leroy Hawkins and Marcel Whavers with 24 each and Shawn Keener with 13.

Sheppard has tossed 7 TD passes, 4 to Whavers and 3 to Xavier.

Larrone Lewis, Keith Carr, Leroy Hawkins and Kevin Gilum all played well on offense, according to the Gaudin.

The defense was led by Jeff Hoppood, who also kicked a 46-yard field goal, L.C. Curry and Yancey Mayfield.

"Many thanks to all the Tiger fans who helped us pull it out up at Perry Central. We hope you will be there and even more vocal at Senior Appreciation Night this Friday when we host Poplarville," Gaudin said.

Game time is 7:30 p.m.

early in the season, and still played 500 ball. They have gotten much better as the year went on."

The Hornets have a record of 4-3 overall and 2-2 in District 8, Class 3A. Bay St. Louis is 7-1 and 4-1.

move the ball and put some points on the boards against their defense," the Tiger coach stated.

Last year, Bay High lost to the Hornets in Poplarville. The loss prevented the Tigers from reaching the playoffs.

Deer hunters can expect best season in history

By Eva Ann Doris

MSU Information Services
From now until Jan. 22 some type of deer hunting season will be open in Mississippi, and predictions are this may be a season to remember.

"All indicators are that this will probably be as good a season as we have ever had," said Dr. Harry Jacobson, wildlife biologist and professor of wildlife and fisheries at Mississippi State University.

"The mast (acorn) crop looks like it will be excellent again this year, particularly red oak," he said.

"Riding on last year's excellent rainfall and the good mast crop, we should have an excellent hunting season. I wouldn't be surprised if we topped the 300,000 mark."

"Indicators are that we have had tremendous reproduction, and most of the does are carrying two fawns at heel," he said.

Bob Griffin, research coordinator for the Mississippi Department of Wildlife, Fisheries and Parks, said the annual game harvest and hunter effort survey conducted by the MDWFP showed last year's harvest to be 277,714.

"This survey is really more of an index that we use to determine trends," Griffin said. "And the trend for deer hunting has been up since we started hunting seasons in Mississippi."

Griffin, who is headquartered at MSU and works closely with MSU's researchers and biologists, said Mississippi's deer population is estimated to be a healthy 1.7 to 2 million deer.

"The deer herds in Mississippi have experienced regional growth," Griffin said. "In the 1960s the herds in the Delta were reaching numbers that threatened die-off, but in north Mississippi you couldn't find a deer anywhere. Some portions of north Mississippi still have not reached their potential for deer numbers."

Griffin said the general hunting public is now more aware of what it takes to manage deer herds and are more interested in healthy and quality deer than in the number of deer.

"We have had more interest in our biology services—deer clubs wanting us to help them with deer management practices such as harvest plans, food plots and habitat management," Griffin said.

A new management program offered this year by the MDWFP allows qualifying landowners and hunting clubs to purchase permits for hunting antlerless deer.

"This is an opportunity for landowners and hunting clubs that are not in our Deer Management Assistance Program to harvest antlerless deer," Griffin said. "The permits, which cost $10 each, are limited by the amount of acreage involved."

"Probably the No. 1 need in order to have a healthy and quality deer herd in this state is to harvest an adequate number of antlerless deer," Griffin said. "But it has got to be done by the legal hunters and the landowners who are making the investment in habitat and proper deer management."

Jacobson, known throughout

Mississippi as Dr. Deer, said keeping herds in balance with their habitat is the most critical factor in the management process.

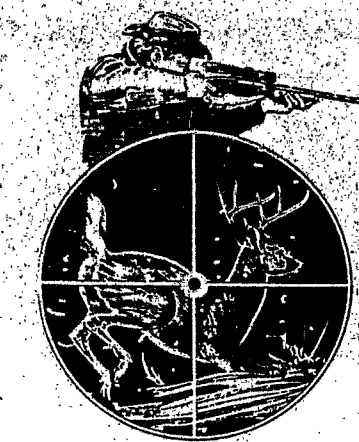

"If you don't have a balanced harvest, the herd may begin reaching the point where it basically expands its boundaries beyond the ability of the environment to support it," Jacobson said. "Then you start seeing the herd's condition deteriorate, and you see increases in herd fawn mortality and a drop in reproduction."

As part of Jacobson's ongoing research, there are about 100 radio-collared deer in Mississippi.

"The collars are quite visible, but if one should be harvested, please call me or the MDWFP," he said.

Archery season for deer opened Oct. 1 and will go until Nov. 20. The first gun season begins Nov. 21 and goes until Dec. 1. Primitive weapon season opens Dec. 2 and runs to Dec. 15. The second gun season will open Dec. 16 and run until Jan. 20. Hunting with dogs is prohibited from Dec. 16 until Dec. 23.

"There will be a statewide doe day on Dec. 19," Griffin said. "That means that on that day, anybody with a valid hunting license can kill an antlerless deer."

Other statistics form the 1991-92 season include:

—The total harvest included 197,000 bucks.

—Thirty-five thousand deer were killed by primitive weapons (muzzle loaders), and 34,000 were killed during the archery season.

—The average seasonal harvest was 1.56 deer per hunter.

—The hunter success rate was 56 percent.

—Total man days of hunting were 3.25 million.

—There were 177,323 resident hunters who hunted 3.25 million days.

—Each resident hunter averaged 18.5 hunting trips.

Cowboys shut out Hawks

Special to the Echo

The Bay St. Louis Cowboys had first possession of the ball and scored on a 15-yard run by Tony Benton in their 20-0 win over the Hancock Hawks.

Jason McKay Dimitri Shornik

The defense wasn't giving up much yardage and Justin Wadsworth's tackle in the backfield ended the Hawks' drive.

The Cowboys' fast backfield, Tony Benton, Paul Favre and Justin Wadsworth is a force to be reckoned with, said Coach Fred Peterman.

The offensive line play of Dimitri Shornik, Greg Fusich, Brandon Everett, Earl Fayard, Jason McKay and Stoney Dossett paved the way and opened holes.

The Cowboys took advantage of a fumble, caused by Steven Knight and recovered by Ronald Brown to add points on the scoreboard. Benton scrambled for 10 yards for the TD. The PAT as no good.

Coach Peterman credited the defensive efforts of Earl Fayard, Stephen Peterman, Steven Knight, Justin Wadsworth, Brandon Everett, Nick Foret and Jace Bourgeois not allowing any points to be scored.

Patrick Martinez, Blake Werner and Tony Benton provided excellent pass coverage, he added.

The Cowboys added another score when Jamie Cuevas' quarterback sneak was successful. The extra point was not good.

The Cowboys are now 5 and 1, and will play the Pearl River Blue Devils Saturday.

FISHIN' Y'ALL

By Jim Maness

It's time to go fishin' y'all. Holy jumping jack-o-lanterns in juniper trees—Bobs Lake area is the place to be. That's right, Bobs Lake is where the reports are coming in of speckled trout catching par excellence. I mean lots of plenty big time numbers of trout.

That's the report that I received from LaFrance Fish Camp this past week. They report that just about every boat that fished the Bobs Lake area came in with either their limit of specks or very close to their limit.

Bobs Lake has been the hottest spot this past week for the specks. Of the approximate 80 boats launched at LaFrance this past Saturday, over half came in with their limits of specks. Quite a few came in with some nice reds and a few flounders. One boat of four men had about 50 nice specks that were caught off of License Point. Without a doubt though, the best catches came from the Louisiana Marsh and the Bobs Lake area.

The way to get to Bobs Lake, from LaFrance, is to take the Pipeline Canal straight out to Lake Borgne. When you get to Lake Borgne you take a compass heading of 150 to the mouth of Blind Pass.

Take your compass and head for Bobs Lake for speckled trout

Before I go any further, let me give you a second way to get there. Go to Herron Bay Point and take a compass heading of 154 which will take you the western tip of Half Moon Island. There is a sand beach right in this area to help you get your bearings.

Once you cross the western tip of Half Moon Island you take a compass heading of 160. This heading will bring you right into the mouth of Blind Pass.

As far as I know Blind Pass and Nine Mile Bayou are the same thing. You need to go through Nine Mile Bayou to get to Bay Boudreau. Keep going straight for a couple of miles in Bay Boudreau and you will come to a lake on the west side that is known as Bobs Lake.

This whole area is just loaded with cuts and grassy shoreline so I suggest that you try all likely spots.

An interesting note on the best bait to use is that most of the specks have been caught using dead shrimp on the bottom on a plain hook.

When you get ready to go back to the launch you need to take a compass heading of 340 from the mouth of Blind Pass. It will be about five and one-third miles to the western tip of Half Moon Island. From there you should be able to find your way home.

Don't forget there ain't no gas stations out there so bring plenty of gas as stuff. Be prepared for a round trip of about 30 to 40 miles, by water, and you should be OK.

By the way, you might wanna check with Bubba Gibbing at LaFrance for any last minute instructions and to confirm your compass headings.

By the way (a second time), the hoist is fixed.

For those folks who don't wanna go so far, Boudreau reports that there is pretty fair action on reds in Bayou Caddy.

Greg Ratcliff of Bay St. Louis caught a 98-pound gar fish in the Cedar Point area this week.

The fish was caught around 5 p.m. using a boat rod with a Penn 209 reel and 40 pound test line. The gar went 6 feet one inch in length. Greg used a mullet about 6 inches long to catch this monster. Good show, man!

This week's wonderful wise words. You can get away from all of the political speeches by going fishin'.

Can't fuss if you don't vote, turtle.

Some catch!

College Football Highlights

For October 31

Neither Miami nor Washington has thoroughly convinced anyone that it's the best team in the country, and this week's games could further confuse the rankings. Could—but probably won't. The Hurricanes host West Virginia, and the major difference between the two teams may be Miami's Halloween home crowd and the toll of previous competition. In the past two weeks Miami has played TCU and Virginia Tech, while the Mountaineers have been tested by Syracuse and Penn State. Our pick is the 'Canes.

The Huskies take on Stanford, also at home and also coming off relatively easy games, with Oregon and Pacific. Stanford has played solidly since its opening loss to Texas A&M, but the Cardinal is up against a team that has something to prove to Miami-biased coaches and writers every time it plays. Washington should win.

Elsewhere, Nebraska and Colorado butt heads in Lincoln, just as they've been butting heads in the Top 20 all season. If these teams prove as predictable as their up-and-down defenses, this one is anybody's guess, but for what it's worth, the Cornhuskers, our favorites, had a week off before they played Missouri last week.

In a game that UCLA has been looking forward to all season, the Bruins travel upstate to face California, seeking revenge for their embarrassing 27-24 loss to the Bears last season—which followed their embarrassing 38-31 loss to the Bears in 1990. Maybe UCLA should show up in costumes appropriate to the season—say, Stanford uniforms.

We shouldn't brag, but our forecasting average has been rising steadily the past few weeks. Through games of Oct. 17, we've picked 993 right and 322 wrong, for an average of .755. The secret? Tea leaves and well-read palms.

NFL Forecast for Sunday and Monday Nov. 1-2

*Buffalo, 30—New England, 12
Five weeks ago the Bills spanked the Pats 41-7, and then proceeded to fall apart in their next two games. New England will probably suffer for its association with that episode.

Cleveland, 27—Cincinnati, 19
The Browns and Bengals split their two Battles of Ohio last year, Cleveland winning by one point, Cincinnati by two. They won't play for anything more than Ohio this year, either.

*Dallas, 24—Philadelphia, 27
The first time these two met it was no contest, the Eagles winning 31-6. But the Cowboys are improving by the week, and Philly is no longer playing like the class of the NFL.

*Detroit, 17—Green Bay, 13
Last year the Lions beat the Packers twice on the way to a 12-4 season; this season they've come back down to earth. Presenting the blackest and bluest of the NPC Central.

Houston, 21—Pittsburgh, 19
In the season opener, the Steelers surprised the Oilers 29-24, so the rematch looms large as the APC Central playoff picture develops. This should be the Oilers' revenge.

L.A. Rams, 24—Atlanta, 20
Atlanta looks like it's headed to the bottom of the NFC West. The Rams appeared destined to join the Falcons there until two weeks ago, when L.A. came alive and beat up on the Giants.

Miami, 28—N.Y. Jets, 13
Miami is solid, and New York a house divided against itself, so this is a sure thing, a certain blowout, and therefore a good bet for a weird upset. But we're not crazy.

*New Orleans, 27—Tampa Bay, 19
It's been three years since Tampa Bay scored more than seven points against the Saints, let alone beat them. The Bucs will improve on last year's 3-13 record, but not at N.O.'s expense.

*San Diego, 20—Indianapolis, 14
Two weeks ago the Chargers beat the Colts for the first time since 1987, 34-14. San Diego doesn't have much of a defense, but Indianapolis doesn't have much of an offense. Whoopee.

San Francisco, 33—Phoenix, 14
The Cards have beaten the 49ers once since 1980, and in their last six games they've faced Philadelphia (twice), Dallas, Washington, the Giants and New Orleans. SF should swamp them.

*Washington, 31—N.Y. Giants, 18
With Dallas playing the way it is, this first of two meetings between the Giants and Redskins shapes up as a must win for both. Last year Washington won both games they played.

Minnesota, 23—Chicago, 17
(Monday) A month ago the Vikes scored three touchdowns in the fourth quarter to beat the Bears 21-20. Will Mike Ditka's heart survive this rivalry? That we certainly won't predict. (Denver, Kansas City, L.A. Raiders, Seattle not scheduled)

Southwest on tap for undefeated PRC Wildcats

A funny thing happened along the way to the 1992 Mississippi Community College football playoffs.

After eight games, pre-season anticipated cellar dwellers are now in the post-season spotlight.

Pearl River Community College, picked in a pre-season coaches' poll to finish fifth in the South Division, wrapped up the South title Saturday in Wesson with a 37-28 victory over Co-Lin.

The Wildcats, ranked fifth in the nation with an 8-0 ledger and 5-0 division mark, is the team in waiting for its North Division opponent in the first round of the playoffs.

PRC's opponent this Thursday is Southwest, the team picked even lower in that first poll of the year. Southwest, however, is also having a betterthan-expected year and is presently tied with Gulf Coast and Hinds for second place with a 3-2 division mark. Jones is 2-2 in the division with Hinds and East Central left.

"Southwest will be highly motivated this week," said Willie Coats, PRC's head coach. "Not only would they love to upset an undefeated team, but a victory over us would keep them in the South race."

Southwest defeated East Central 31-27 Saturday to push its overall record to 5-3. The Bears lead 17-0 at halftime and held on for the victory. Southwest last defeated PRC in 1987. That game was a 31-30 thriller.

Pearl River spotted Co-Lin 14 points before finally getting its offense in gear. "We didn't play football at all during the first quarter," said Coats. "We were flat on offense and defense."

In the second quarter James Holloway put the Wildcats on the board with a 43-yard run and then quarterback Dayna Hall found Antonio Kidd open for a 76-yard touchdown. Brandon Murray kicked both PATs to tie the score at 14 at the half.

Chris Ryan, the state's leading rusher who was held to only 16 yards in the first half, opened the third quarter with a 50-yard touchdown run. Murray's extra point was no good and PRC led 20-14. Co-Lin tied the game with two Andrew Caladrello field goals later in the third quarter.

PRC stormed back with two Hall to Kidd passes to put the Wildcats in front to stay. With 3:12 in the third, Hall passed 57 yards to Kidd, and on the next drive Hall connected with Kidd from 32 yards out.

Kidd's seven receptions for 215 yards and three touchdowns will go into the PRC record book as the most receiving yards in a game. Dennis Barnett held the previous record as he tallied 212 yards against Co-Lin in 1967. The 76-yard touchdown is the 10th longest in Wildcat history.

"We took what they gave us," said Coats after the game. "Co-Lin concentrated on shutting down fullback Ryan and our option. When they did that it put Kidd with only one man to beat in the secondary."

Ryan rushed for 129 yards in the second half to net 145 for the night. His eight-game total is now 970 yards and that's good enough for second place in the single season rushing yards category.

Willie Heidelberg, a member of PRC's Sports Hall of Fame, rushed for 910 yards in 1969. Michael Toefield set the standard twenty years later (1989) with 1,307 yards.

"We're working not to have a let-down this week," said Coats. "We have the South wrapped up, but we are shooting for an undefeated season."

Coats said he has no less than seven starters questionable for this week. "We may not know until game time who will be able to play this week," said Coats. "We sure have a bruised-up bunch right now."

Defensive backs Darionne Magee and Clarence Wiggins may not see action, as well as quarterback Dayna Hall and running back James Holloway. Offensive lineman Bart Pittman is also listed as doubtful.

9th grade Tigers Jr. High champs

BY TRACI BONNEY

The 9th grade Bay High Tigers clinched the Coast Junior High Conference 1992 championship with a 42-0 romp over the Long Beach Bearcats last week.

The Tigers had built an impressive 30-0 lead at the half behind the play of quarterback Kendal Marquar, halfback Wali Shabazz and fullback Danny Farrell, and the blocking of the entire offensive line of Donny Ray, Kasey Brown, Roger Williams, Jeremy Turcotte and Kendrick Laneaux.

The defense recorded its fourth shutout of the year with the win. The 9th grade squad stands at 6-1 overall and 4-0 in conference action.

The B team, coming back from an open date two weeks ago, defeated Hancock 23-6 last week. They traveled to Long Beach Monday; results were unavailable at press time.

Before Monday's match, the B team stood at 3-0.

The 7/8 grade squad lost for the second week, falling 12-0 to Long Beach last week and 30-14 to Hancock the week before.

Coach Rocky Gaudin commented of the BHS/LB game, "The Tigers played very well most of the game, and had several chances to take the lead in the second half. Long Beach scored their second TD on the last play of the game."

The 7/8 graders (3-4 overall, 1-3 conference) host Pearl River Central today at 5 p.m. The 9th grade game, also at Joe D. McCullough Stadium, starts at 6 p.m.

Gaudin stated, "It was another very good week for the program. The varsity team assured itself of at least second place in the district and can be in the playoffs with a win over Poplarville this Friday at home."

"The 9th grade team continues to roll along and will finish their regular season at home against the undefeated PRC squad. The 9th grade team also has been selected to play in the Mullet Bowl Thursday, Nov. 12, at Tiger stadium against East Central."

"The 7/8 grade closes out its season today by trying to finish with a .500 record, which would be outstanding considering the number of 7th graders and first-year 8th graders that make up this team."

"Many thanks to all the Tiger fans who helped us 'pull it out' up at Perry Central (BHS won 23-18). We hope you are there and even more vocal at Senior Appreciation Night this Friday versus Poplarville."

Boys and Ghouls

BSLLT Young People's Theatre presents Halloween comedy

The Bay St. Louis Little Theatre's Young People's Theatre will perform Boys and Ghouls Together Friday and Saturday, 8 p.m., at the Playhouse on Boardman Avenue.

The play is set in the Alps at a castle the owners have converted into a youth hostel. The owners are trying to find a suitable match for their daughter.

Mom and Dad are descendants of Dr. Frankenstein and Count Dracula. Their first guests are a group of American teenagers, and one of the boys seems to fit the bill for the owners' daughter.

The production includes a robot, howling wolves, an alligator, a hypnotist and a raven quoting "Nevermore."

The cast includes Eric Masse, Jason Mautray, Ryan Schaefer, Robbie Welz, Richard Watson, Claudette Garcia, Aid Medley, Jennifer Clark, Rebecca Smith, Danielle Jackson, Casey Bernard, Gin Johnson, Diana

Seaton, Margaret Welz, Janette Dill and Wade Sprabery.

Marie Bernard is director and in charge of set design. Karen Flores is assistant director, she and Joanne Mummie manage set decoration. Set construction is under the direction of Bill Flores and Roy Aultman; Jane Storey is in charge of programs.

Tickets are $3 children, $5 adults. A $1 discount will be given with donation of a non-perishable food item, which will be donated to feed needy families in Hancock County. BSLT will donate money to purchase turkeys for food baskets.

For reservations, phone 467-5710.

Kmart carnival, coloring contest set

Kmart in Waveland has slated its second annual Halloween Carnival Friday, October 30, 6 until 9 p.m. for children, infant to age 12.

Children, who must be accompanied by an adult, will be given 10 tickets to play any game they choose.

Those who come in costume may have a free picture made in the camera department. They can be picked up November 6.

A haunted house will benefit Toys for Tots. Admission is a new or used toy, or 25¢ children, 50¢ adult.

Coloring contest entries may be submitted until 5 p.m. October 30. Judging will be in front of the store at 7 p.m.

Happy Halloween

Bayside FD plans Oct. haunted house

Bayside Volunteer Fire Department will host a haunted house, along Highway 90 service road, one mile west of the Waveland line. Gobling, ghouls and ghosts will be available beginning tonight from 7 p.m. until midnight. They shall return sometime tomorrow and Halloween. Admission is $2 adults, $1 children. Under 5 free.

NBE hosts Fall Festival

North Bay Elementary's Fall Festival, which focuses on Drug Awareness Week, will be October 31 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Special characters will arrive on a fire truck, and McGruff the Crime Dog will be present. Citizens Against Drugs will man a sign-in board, and a speaker from Memorial Hospital at Gulfport will talk about drug awareness at 11 a.m.

The festival also will feature many activities, including a pumpkin decorating contest at 1 p.m., with WLOX's Mike Reader as one of the judges; a space walk, games, white elephant booth, food and a cake walk.

A raffle will be held, with gift certificates for restaurants and other special prizes being given.

Crime prevention: Halloween safety

Special to the Echo by Public Relations Officer Don Oco and Crime Prevention Specialist Jim Clark

With Halloween approaching, parents should consider the safety of their children on "Trick or Treat Night."

Some preparations can be made ahead of time. Choice of costume, for example, can incorporate safety factors. Make-up is better than a mask that might obstruct vision. A safe costume is also short enough to prevent the child wearing it from tripping over the hem.

Light-colored clothing that is easily visible after dark is best; but darker outfits can be made safer if reflective tape or material is added to them.

Also, costume materials should be non-flammable. A flashlight can be included as part of the costume, but if one is not, children should carry a light anyway.

Children should never trick or treat alone or in neighborhoods where they don't know the residents. Walking in a group and stopping only at well-lit houses is safest.

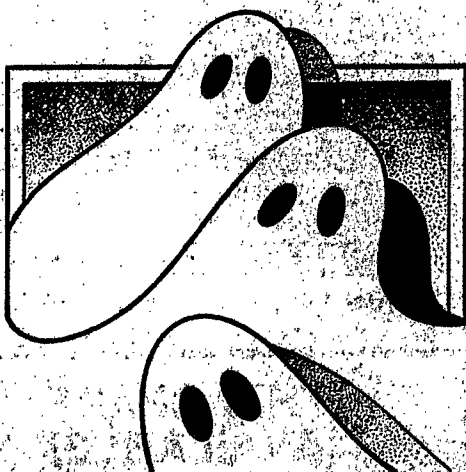

Children should never walk in the street and should obey all traffic signals at crossings. In addition, even older children should be accompanied by an adult at all times.

Among the possible dangers at Halloween are treats that have been tampered with or contaminated. Children should accept only wrapped or sealed treats and should never eat any of them before taking them home and having them checked by a parent. If the wrapper from the candy company has been removed and replaced, it is best to throw the treat away.

Another way you can contribute to the safety of the children in your neighborhood is to offer trick or treaters some sort of non-edible treat, such as a small toy.

For more information on Halloween safety and other crime prevention topics, contact public relations officer Don Oco or crime prevention specialist Jim Clark through the Crime Prevention Unit at Bay St. Louis Police Department.

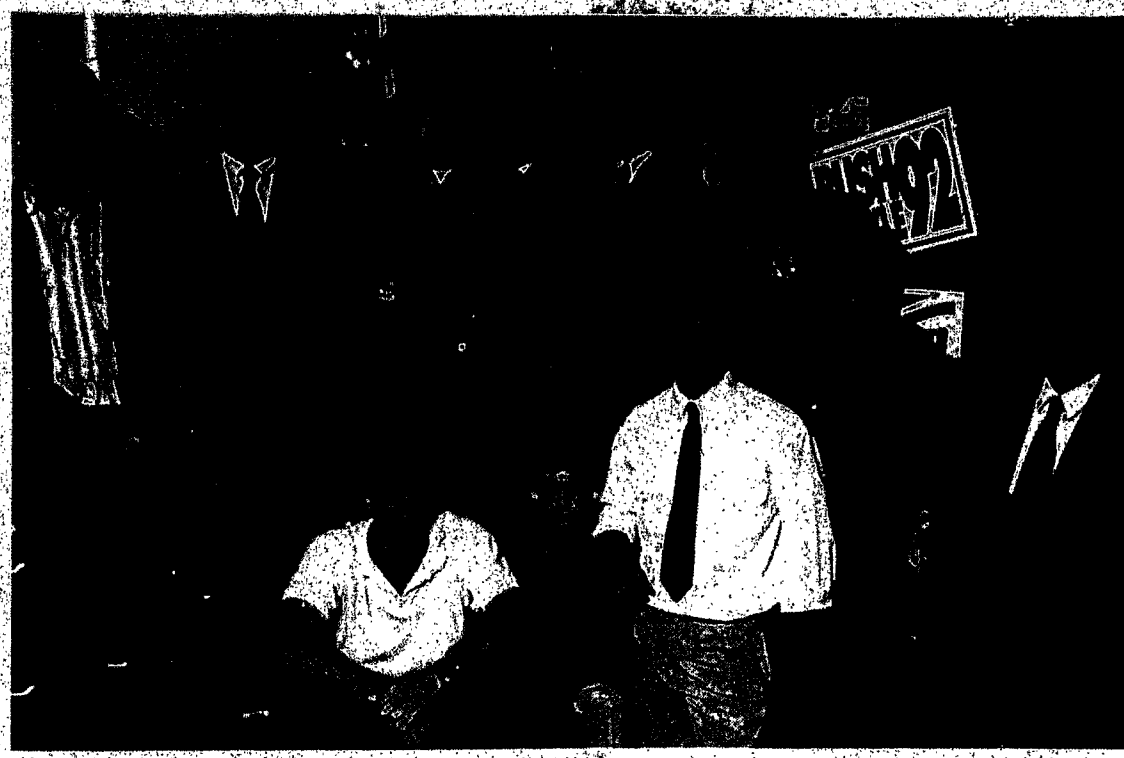

Halloween Howl benefits Waveland Animal Shelter

The Waveland Animal Shelter is hosting a Halloween dance and costume contest Saturday, October 31 from 8 p.m. to 2 a.m. at the Hancock County Civic Center.

The dance is a benefit for the shelter and a donation of $5 admits two. DJ Milton Travis will spin records from 8-10 p.m., and The Mississippi Blue Boys, a rhythm and blues band, will perform from 10 p.m. until 2 a.m.

There will be door prizes, free food, raffles, a cash beer bar, BYOB with a $3 bottle charge and set ups will be sold at the bar. The dance is open to adults, 21 years of age and over. ID's will be checked at the door. For more information call 467-0230.

Conserving our resources is focus of Field Day

Hancock County Soil and Water Conservation District played host to more than 600 fourth grade students at McLeod Park on October 9.

Students were provided educational information by several agencies and individuals concerning the importance of conservation of our natural resources.

"The students were able to hear, smell and touch some of the natural resources we are teaching them to conserve," said a spokesman.

This field day not only provided a new look on conservation, but provided a day in the beautiful surroundings of McLeod Park.

"This second year of holding our Conservation Awareness Field Day was an experience that everyone enjoyed. We hope to make it even bigger and better next year."

Agencies involved included Soil Conservation Service,

Smokey Bear and Sammy Soil assist in field day activities

Bureau of Marine Resources, Coast Electric Association, TCB Cotton Production Inc., Gulf of Mexico Program, Mississippi

Forestry Commission, Special Assistant Fisheries-Wetland-Aquaculture, Johnson Consulting Inc., Mississippi Power Company and Harry the Robot, Smokey Bear, Sammy Soil and a host of assistance provided by individuals who worked together to make this a very special event.

BHS guest speaker

Joseph Viguerie, managing attorney of a large corporate New Orleans law firm specializing in labor relations, speaks to the Bay High marketing and co-op students concerning employability skills. "His presentation was part of a special unit designed to assist students as they enter the very competitive job market," said teacher Jane Viguerie Lamb.

Compretta selected for Young Leaders Conference

Brenan Compretta of Bay St. Louis has been selected to become a Congressional Scholar representing Mississippi in the National Young Leaders Conference January 26-31, 1993, in Washington, D.C.

Compretta is one of 350 young people who have been selected for the week-long event. He was chosen based on information received from national scholastic services which collect academic information and conduct pre-college classroom surveys to assist educational institutions in identifying the most promising students.

Fewer than two percent of all secondary school students are eligible to serve as Congressional Scholars.

The scholars will attend a number of special functions held in their honor, including a presentation on the Floor of the House of Representatives and a special White House issue briefing.

They will meet with high-ranking government officials, senators and representatives, members of Washington's diplomatic corps, national media figures and prominent scholars.

CONSUMER UPDATE

Read the fine print before responding to credit card offers

By Janet K. Lukens
Area consumer money management specialist

Local consumers are reporting numerous solicitations for credit cards, some of which will prove to be quite costly for the consumer.

Most of the offers emphasize pre-approval and large credit limits. Some even tout no annual fee.

What is more difficult to determine from the solicitation are terms that often prove costly for the consumer.

When considering a credit card offer, be sure to look for red flags that signal a less than desirable source of credit. And don't allow the convenience of a pre-approved offer tempt you into a more costly source of credit than necessary.

Probably the most obvious indicator of a less-than-desirable credit card offer is an up-front fee of any type. If the creditor expects to get his money before the consumer gets any service, it is likely the creditor has something to hide.

Consumers are reporting to me two types of credit card offers asking for up-front fees. The first and most common offer targets individuals which are finding it difficult to secure credit elsewhere. The credit card offer arrives and appears to offer a substantial credit limit.

To activate the account, the consumer must send the initial fee with the response card. The consumer does receive a card, however, there is one "catch" to the card.

It can only be used to purchase items from the company's catalog. The catalog is sent with the card and contains various household items, most of which can be purchased locally for a less expensive price.

Another credit card offer which may prove to disappoint is a so-called "no annual fee" card which stipulates the consumer must send an initial fee and receive as the first transaction, a substantial cash advance.

After the cash advance is received, the consumer is charged a high rate of interest on the outstanding balance and may be penalized for early repayment.

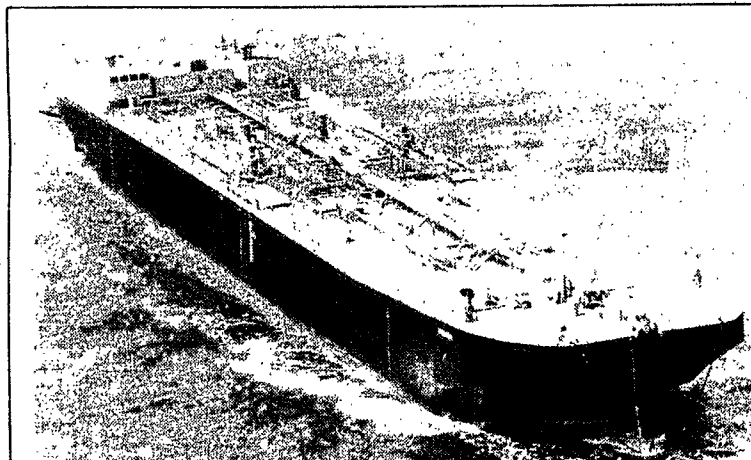

The consumer most likely to be targeted for this credit offer is one with a good credit rating but who is likely to be in need of cash for the holidays.

Mail solicitations should be examined carefully before accepting. Read the fine print and review carefully any indication that the offer is not what it first appears. Legitimate credit card companies with desirable credit terms do not ask for initial fees.

If the offer you are considering passes the initial review, compare it to other low interest rate, no annual fee, and secured credit cards.

Listings of these credit card companies can be acquired through the non-profit organization, Bankholders of America for a fee of $4 and $5 per list. The toll-free number to contact is (800) 553-8025.

New barge delivered

Turecamo Maritime of Stamford, Conn. recently took delivery of the 90,000 barrel capacity oil barge "Iroquois" at Gulf Coast Fabrication, Inc.'s yard at Port Bienville. On long term charter to the Mobil Oil Corporation for service in the Northeast United States, the double skin vessel of 390' x 78' x 31' complies with the new federal OPA 90 regulations to prevent oil spills in the event of collision or grounding by surrounding the cargo compartments with ballast tanks; no cargo touches the exterior skin of the vessel. Designed to carry refined products in 12 separate tanks, the unique pumping system permits the blending of products on board for multiple applications at discharge locations.

Loiacano attends fitness conference

Andrea Loiacano, fitness manager of Loiacano's Health Club, recently attended the 1992 IDEA International Convention and Expo in Las Vegas to learn about fitness trends and exercise safety and to network with fitness professionals. The convention was attended by more than 4,000 fitness professionals from around the world and addressed the latest information on step training, gross training and strength training.

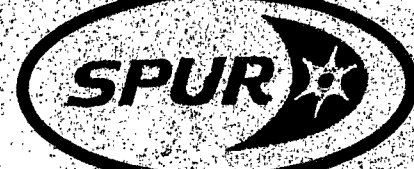

"It is exciting to see so many fitness options," said Loiacano. Men enjoy the intensity of step training and are becoming more involved in aerobics. More women are becoming involved in strength training through circuit training classes, which combine aerobic's and muscle strengthening.

There is also more information on exercise for seniors. The real marker is the human body and its components—bone, muscle, metabolism and cardiovascular system. The better condition they are in the less likely age can prey on them. Exercise and good nutrition is the ultimate anti-aging program.

Loiacano is a master member of IDEA: the Association for Fitness Professionals.
